

Fish Market Soundscape

Audio Description

0:00

Silence.

0:07

Rattling sounds start quiet and grow. Sounds like croaking frogs and bird screeches, groans of a wooden dock along the water.

1:05

Rustle of wind and waves in the background.

1:55

Voices start distant, speaking and then are suddenly very close, a men's chorus singing in unison in another language. Previous background sounds fade. Voices shift from left to right channel, back and forth.

4:21

Singing ends. Background rattling, croaks, and groans continue. Some sounds seem electronically altered, as if stretched or compressed.

5:50

Singing voices suddenly reappear. Now it's a call and response: one man sings a line, and the rest of the chorus repeats a line in unison. Background sounds fade. Voices shift from right to left and back.

7:50

Background rattles fade back in while the singing continue. It seems almost as if the singers and croaks and groans are interacting.

9:15

Singing ends. Background sounds continue at full volume.

9:45

Background sounds fade out, then silence.
