

Call for Participation in the PhD students Workshop on Minority Languages and Communities Studies

This two days' Workshop for PhD students working on different topics related to minority languages and cultures will serve as the occasion to present and discuss their ongoing research with their peers and with experienced researchers of this field.

During the Workshop, there will be three sessions with guests – established researchers and language revitalization practitioners, which will touch on the issues of:

- Minority languages research methodology;
- Ethnolinguistic vitality assessment;
- Language Revitalization and engaged sociolinguistics.

The Workshop will be held on 10th and 11th September 2020, at the Institute of Slavic Studies, Polish Academy of Sciences, Warsaw, Poland. Please note that the Workshop is held directly before the International Conference Conventional and unconventional ways of transmitting and revitalizing minoritized languages: the context of Europe and beyond, which may be of interest to participants.

The costs of participation (including travel costs, hotel and catering) for participants are sponsored by the NAWA, Poland.

Please, send your submissions for oral presentations to conference.revitalization@gmail.com. The abstract should be 200 words plus references. Please add your name, institutional affiliation, area of research, and the title of a PhD thesis.

Please, indicate if you wish to participate in the Conference (12-13 September 2020) if accepted. The Conference fee for PhD students is 60 Euro.

You can find information on the Workshop here:

<https://www.facebook.com/events/2449912415269102/>

You can find information on the Conference here:

<https://www.facebook.com/events/2584137801816600/>

The length of the talk will be 20 minutes plus 10 minutes of questions and discussion. All topics related to minority languages and cultures from PhD students are welcome.

Language policy: The language of the Conference is English. If a presentation is based on data in any other language, the use of multilingual material (e.g. in PowerPoint slides, handouts) is recommended.

Deadline for abstract submissions: 1st of March 2020.

Notification of acceptance: 1st of April 2020.

